The city distributing force in the Salt Lake postoffice is hard pushed with the Christmas business. The superintendent in the hospital wrestling with appen licitis, yet another experienced clerk has a death in his family, and the rest of the boys are putting in 15 hours a day as a steady article of diet. They look as though they needed rest.

Head Walter Thomas H. Frame of Knutsford hotel gave his annual Christmas greeting at 9 o'clock last night, to his faithful corps of walters, at his residence, 638 south State street. The boys turned out in full force and punished the fine spread in great shape. Bud Rice was toastmaster, W. H. Banks vas the funny man, and the responses to the toasts were well given and en loyed. The announcement card was uniquely gotten up. The frontispiece resented a careless colored waiter ead of a hotel gueset, while the head waiter stands by, exclaiming, "No ex-cuse, sir: go, get your time."

"Honest John" Allen Succumbs to An Attack of Pneumonia.

HAD BEEN ILL TEN WEEKS.

His Wife Died a Week Ago, While Two Others of the Family Were Also Called Away.

Ex-Councilman John Allen, one of the best known residents of this city, died yesterday at his home on Jeremy street, of pneumonia. Mr. Allen had been ili for ten weeks but seemed to be improving until a few days ago when the death of his wife, who was buried on Wednesday last, aggravated his condition, and did much, no doubt, to hasten the unlooked for end. Mr. Allen was prominent in local business affairs and for years had been engaged in paving and roofing and previously had handled copper matte. He was a man with a strong, robust constitution and one who strong; his geniality had made many trienas who will be sorely pained to hear of his demise. As stated above his affe died less than a week ago, while only a lew days before his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Eliza Benyon, passed away a victum of erysipelas, and yesterday Annie Morgan, a cousin of his wife, died at her home in the Twentieth ward. John Alien, or "Honest John," as he as tamiliarly known, was born in Swansea, Waies, 51 years ago, and emigrated to America in 1874, coming direct to Utah, whither he had been attracted by the "Mormon" faith. On his arrival he settled in Salt Lake which has been his home ever since. He had been married 33 years and was the rather of 10 children by his first wife, a.r of whom are yet living. His first wife died 13 years ago and two years later he married the wife who has just died, by whom he had two children, yet living.

Mr. Allen became a member of the City Council from the Second precinct in 1895 and served in that capacity for four years, during which period he gained the appellation of "Honest John." He was consistent and straightforward in all his dealings and was highly respected by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.
Funeral services will be held at the Twenty-fourth ward meeting house on Sunday next at 12 o'clock.

KILLED BY VAUGINATION. Son of Mayor Lay of Marion, Ind., a Victim of Inoculation.

Harry Lay of Marion, Ind., the 8-

year-old son of Mayor J. H. Lay, died last week as the result of vaccination, says the Chicago Drovers' Journal. Mayor Lay was the father of an ordinance that was passed by the city council making the vaccination of children compulsory. The ordinance was passed during a stormy session. Afterward a number of meetings were held by the anti-vaccination faction, and it was decided to ignore the ordinance and send the children to school withbeing vaccinated and without doctor's certificate of vaccination as prescribed by the ordinance

On the morning the ordinance be at the different school buildings with the prescribed certificates. eachers refused to admit them and it was necessary to call the police to disthe crowds about the school

The lines were closely drawn befriends became enemies. The contro versy was at fever heat when the little son of Mayor Lay died. The mayor being strongly in favor of vaccination, it was a hard blow for him. The opposing faction did not gloat over his bereavement; in fact, an opposite effect was the result. Hearts were touched by the grief of the father and mother, who had their only child. On the day of he funeral every place of business in the city was closed, the schools were dismissed and the pupils marched to All civic and secret orfolned in the funeral procession

A TRULY MERRY CHRISTMAS.

EX-COUNCILMAN. People Generally Make the Most of the Joyous Holiday-Churches, Salvation Army and Others Properly Care for The Little Folks-Good Humor All 'Round.

> Christmas was quietly celebrated in this city yesterday, and mostly indoors because of the mild weather, which dral serenaded the hospital Wednesday this city yesterday, and mostly indoors because of the mild weather, which prevented skating, and out of door movements generally, for the walking was anything but agreeable. A marked feature of the day was the music in the Episcopal and Catholic churches, which was finely rendered and greatly enjoyed by the worshippers who crowded into the sanctuaries, and the music of the evening previous was effectively given. The various soloists sang very creditably. At St. Mary's cathedral pontifical high mass was celebrated yesterday morning. Other churches held their Sunday school festivities Tuesday evening and last night, which were well attended, and the children enjoyed themselves with their trees and presents.

The Salvation Army had a crowded house at the poor children's Christmas dinner in the old St. Mark's schoolhouse, last evening. There was a Santa Claus, of course, and two big trees, and great store of things for the great throng of little folks who would no have enjoyed the occasion as they did but for the Salvation Army people. While there was an abundance of toys, there was also plenty of clothing for such of the scantily clad little ones who

Captain Wood and his associates laoored many days for the success of the poor children's Christmas, and had the satisfaction of seeing their greatest hopes realized. The upstairs of the schoolhouse had been appropriately decorated to carry out the Christma In one corner a board stall had been built and in the manger, sur rounded by hay, lay a doll, emblamatic night, and gave great pleasure to the patients. The soldiers at the post were relieved of regular routine work and enjoyed a fine mess and there were special services in the evening in the post chapel, with Chapiain Marvin and stev. R. Wake as the principal speakers. The Sisters of the Holy Cross held midnight mass Christmas eve, and yesterday, there was a fine dinner at noon, with many visitors during the day. At the Orphans' Home and Day Nursery there was a merry Christmas tide, with a tree and the usual presents and dec-orations, and a dinner. Among the contributors to the effair were Mrs. D. C. McLaughlin, about $100 worth of toys and dainties; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Judson, a box of oranges; Mrs. M. H. Walker, toys; Mrs. David Keith, turkeys; the liff M. E. church; toys and candy; the Stock exchange, toys and candy, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Walker, the Wasatch Candy company, the Salt Lake Soda Water company and Mrs. George Hancock, can'ly and toys. At St. Ann's Orphanage there was a good time also, with a tree, presents and a fine spread for the lattle ones. Then the inmates of the county infirm ary were by no means forgotten, an there was a feast of good things to eat. The Swedish people held a Julotta in St. Mark's hall yesterday, where a musical program and regular interesting exercises were enjoyed. This included presents for the children. The inmates of the jails and prison were not forgotten, and excellent cheer was furnished them, with special privileges for the day.

There were hundreds of family tre celebrations in the city Wednesday night, with the usual lights and decorations, and all mankind seemed to be in the best of humor.

AN INTERESTING ROMANCE. Utah Battery Boy Wins the Hand of a Dashing Galety Girl.

Walter H. Cooke of the Utah batteres, and now in the Eighth U. S. infantry, will wed on New Year's day, Miss Jennie Taylor of the Frank Daniels "Miss Simplicity" company. There is an interesting romance connected with this marriage. Cooke was taken sick during service in the Philippines. There he found a novel that bore Miss Taylor's name and address on the flyleaf. In a spirit of fun he wrote asking the young lady for her photo. In the same spirit she wrote back that a fair exchange would be no robbery. sult was an exchange of photos and Cooke fell desperately in love with the picture of the girl.
